

JIT Components introduces the new DR12 Snap Cover

The new JIT DR12 snap cover is an accessory that would replace the terminals and cover on a standard DR12 enclosure. The snap cover would allow the user to use pluggable terminal blocks, switches, LEDs and any connector instead of the standard terminals and cover. JIT Components would machine the appropriate openings in the snap cover for this purpose.

If you would like more information, please contact Jim Kuntz at (727) 437-8897 or email at jkuntz@jit-components.com.

